Bio:

Trimaxx International Publishers Feature Author

Lady Eros™

(Author's pseudonym for Erotic works)

Author C.D.Grant was born Jan 29th in Connecticut and currently resides in Olympia, WA

She has been writing poetry since the age of 8 and continued into her teens as a poetic wordsmith, as well as writing short stories and erotica for friends as she grew older. Her poetry was published in a widespread prison ministry newsletter in the early 80's; and she has since gone on to become an inspiration in her own quiet way to many by publishing her work on the web.

The author graduated from high school in 1981, and unsatisfied with college curriculum's, went on to self-study in the areas that she chose for herself such as Comprehensive Comparative Religions, Behavioral Psychology, Human Sexuality, Sexology, Adult Sexual Psychology Studies, Theology, Philosophy, and Quantum Physics. Lady Eros is Trimaxx's Adult Alternative Sexual Lifestyles and Relationships Adviser.

She is a published author of Erotic Literature and Erotic Poetry, as well as a web-published author of Short Story fiction. Many of her readers and fans have been shocked to learn that she has never taken any poetry or creative writing classes; yet because of her extensive reading of literature since childhood, she writes across 5 genres.

Lady Eros is the Producer/Host of "Eros Radio" a popular Adult Sexual Lifestyles Education and Advocacy Radio Show on the well-known podcast hosting site, BlogTalkRadio. And she is an advocate for a Global Sex-Positive Initiative.

Lady Eros is an outspoken advocate and supporter of Free Speech, GLBT Rights, Adult Literacy, Survivor's of Childhood Sexual Abuse, Recovering Addicts, Survivors of Domestic Violence/Violent Crimes, the Homeless, and Breast Cancer.

A part of all proceeds from books by Lady Eros purchased through Trimaxx International Publishers will go to Breast Cancer research and support; and the more books published through Trimaxx International Publishers, the more foundations she will donate to for these concerns.

Her first collection of erotic Literature has been published by Trimaxx International Publishers, "Eros Comes In Black Satin" Vol. I, a collection of Erotic Short Story Fiction. She is currently working on Volumes II-VII of the Eros Comes In Black Satin series.

There are 15 separate anthologies of contemporary freestyle prose - including a series of spoken word poetry in mp3 format (also in post-production stages). C.D. Grant has also begun working on her highly anticipated autobiography "Shattered Pieces: The Broken Child, A Living Memoir".

Lady Eros is also gearing up to begin work on the first of a trilogy novel series which will rock the globe with a new and highly controversial style and effect in Erotic Psychological Fiction.
